

Policy & Planning

Internat Energy Solutions is strongly committed to the more efficient use of the world's resources and to the integration of renewable energy. We also recognize that energy efficiency and renewable energy markets are strongly driven by policy. As such, Internat Energy Solutions is actively involved in monitoring and assessing key government policy in Europe, North America, and around the world. In working with governments, our goal is to help bring innovative and effective policy to the political fore.

Our knowledge of best practices can assist governments in terms of developing innovative policy, planning and strategies designed to monitor and reduce their share of aggregate greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions.

In addition, our work with governments and knowledge of the policy landscape can assist residential and commercial clients reduce GHG emissions, become more energy efficient, and reduce costs, while fully capitalizing on important opportunities generated by policy at the domestic and international level.
